Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-70 and 94-97, drawn to a method, classified in class 205, subclass 109.
- II. Claims 71-75, drawn to an article, classified in class 428, subclass 548.
- II. Claims 76-93 and 98-99, drawn to a composition, classified in class 106, subclass 1.05.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the product can be made by a materially different process such as by applying the quasicrystalline particles to the electrode surface and subsequently coating an elemental metal onto the particles as opposed to the claimed method of electrodeposition.

Inventions I and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the inventions differ in that Group I is drawn to a method of electrodepositing particles of a quasicrystalline metal alloy and an elemental metal onto a working electrode disposed in an electroplating bath comprising a solvent, ions of the elemental metal dissolved in the solvent and the quasicrystalline particles. However, the invention of Group III, while drawn to a composition that also comprises a quasicrystalline metal alloy and an elemental metal, the invention of Group III does not recite any limitations regarding the composition being used or suitable for use in an electroplating bath.

Inventions II and III are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the subcombination of Group III has separate utility such as an a stand alone structure that does not require being coated onto an electrode substrate such as is required by the claims of Group II.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for any one of Groups I-III is not required for any other Group, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
